

Williams Succumbs to McLoughlin's Sterling Hughes Nearly Equals Record

McLOUGHLIN REACHES FINAL AT LONGWOOD

Defeats Davis Cup Teammate, Williams, in Three Set Match.

MURRAY OTHER FINALIST

Pell and Behr to Play Hackett and Alexander for Eastern Doubles Championship.

Boston, July 27.—Maurice E. McLoughlin defeated R. Norris Williams in three sets at the Longwood Cricket Club this afternoon in one of the semi-finals, and as a result meets his fellow Californian, R. Lindley Murray, in the final match tomorrow. Murray defeated Wallace F. Johnson in a hard fought three set encounter.

The final match for the Eastern doubles championship will be between R. Pell and Karl Behr, who will oppose H. Hackett and Fred Alexander. The former combination was defeated by the latter in the quarter-finals, and Hackett and Alexander disposed of the latter in the semi-finals.

McLoughlin's victory over Williams was a result of his superior ground strokes. In almost every game he scored points on telling smashes, and his ground strokes were so accurate that his opponent could not return. In the final match, McLoughlin was not so successful, but he was able to win by a narrow margin.

Seldom through the match did either of the two players attempt net work. McLoughlin's smashing forehand was the main feature of his game, and he was able to win by a narrow margin. Williams was not so successful, but he was able to win by a narrow margin.

The latter simply took their time, and also full advantage of all opportunities, with the result that they may get into the national event once more. The summary: Longwood Road, Singles, Semi-final Round, R. Norris Williams, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2, R. Lindley Murray, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

DAVIS CUP TEAM TO PRACTISE.

Test Matches to Pick Doubles Pair Begin at Hay Ridge on Thursday.

Efforts to determine the players who will represent the United States in the doubles in the Davis cup matches will begin on Thursday of this week on the tennis courts of the Crescent Athletic Club at Hay Ridge. A series of doubles matches will be played.

Maurice E. McLoughlin will be paired with Karl H. Behr in some of the matches and with his old partner, Thomas C. Bundy, in the others, and both combinations will be expected to do well.

Norris Williams also will do a little double work, although it is hardly likely that he will be called upon to play in the Davis cup, the main object of the series that begins on Thursday being to determine whether the McLoughlin-Behr or the McLoughlin-Bundy combination is the better one.

The strongest pairs that can be found will play against the cup defenders, The Crescent Athletic Club also has invited the Australian and German players to play at Hay Ridge. The German players will be expected to do well.

FOUR FAVORITES FAIL IN ONE DAY'S RACING

Bad Afternoon for Followers of Form at Empire City

Track.

GROVER HUGHES A WINNER

Runs Fast Race for Melrose Stakes and Finishes Close to Record.

F. D. Weir's Grover Hughes, which has done his best racing at sprint distances since coming East, lasted out a mile and a sixteenth yesterday and won the Melrose Stakes, which was the feature of the Empire City card. The race was a good one from every point of view, for Grover Hughes came within two-fifths of a second of the track record, made by the Whitney track, Borow, this season.

The victory of Grover Hughes did not occasion so much talk as did the crushing defeat of the favorite, Blue Thistle, which won in a convincing manner at this distance last Thursday. The track Westerner, Grover Hughes, and the mount on Blue Thistle, and the manner in which the Blues gelding was beaten off by both the winner and old Guy Fisher caused him to go before the stewards with an explanation. Nelson said that his mount was roughly handled approaching the far turn and that afterward he could not rouse him into his usual stretch effort.

There was considerable interest in the sixth race, a handicap for mares and geldings, at a mile and seventy yards, because of the fact that the favorite, W. Mossyville, was taking a public trial for the Alabama Stakes for fillies, to be run at Saratoga next Monday. Addie M., which finished third in the Empire City race, was expected to win as she was asked to concede nine pounds to Hedge and seventeen to Star Gaze, both good performers. Hedge was an odds on favorite, but her backers had some misgivings when she lost three lengths at the start, and McCalley on Star Gaze took advantage of it by sending his mount out for a commanding lead at seven furlongs. Nelson kept his head and urged Hedge along, so that at the turn for home he was able to make a bid for victory. The struggle was a brief one, and Hedge came away in the stretch, winning by two lengths. Star Gaze beat Addie M. by five lengths, but Mr. Mossyville's filly showed sufficiently good form to warrant her having a chance in the Alabama.

Four favorites failed in a row made another uncomfortable day for form players, and perhaps the greatest loss they received was in the first race, in which E. R. Bradley's Brick and Mortar won the race. The pair hooked up for a hard drive in the stretch, and Brick and Mortar won by a length. MARTIN LEADS BIG FIELD.

Beats Evans and Gardner by One Stroke in Qualifying Round.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 27.—Runcie B. Martin, formerly a Chicago golfer, but now a resident of Hammond, Ind., led a field of nearly two hundred in the qualifying round for the Western amateur championship at the Kent Country Club today.

Despite a heavy rain, which ruined many promising scores, Martin played steadily and turned in a 72 for the eight-hole round. Charles Evans, Jr., of Chicago, former Western champion and runner up for the national title in 1912, tied with Robert Gardner, also of Chicago, for second place on the list of those who qualified. Each made the round in 73.

There were three golfers tied for fourth place, R. E. Allen, J. M. Hubbard, Ralph Peters, Omaha, and J. M. Hubbard, Des Moines.

One of the surprises of the day was the showing made by George S. Lyon of Toronto, the veteran golfer who was runner up to Eben M. Byers for the national championship at Englewood in 1906. He played with Evans and turned in a card of 75. The sixty-four leaders qualified.

SPARS FOR SHAMROCK REACH HERE ON LINER

Two Hollow Wooden Masts and Boom Brought Over by Minnewaska.

The advance guard of the Shamrock spars, rigging, and sails arrived here yesterday on the Atlantic Transport Line steamer Minnewaska. There were two hollow wooden masts and a hollow boom on board. These spars were carefully wrapped in burlap and protected by wooden battens so that they should not be damaged by the rough sea.

Other spars and sails are now expected daily on steamers arriving from Southampton. They will be taken to the Brooklyn yards as fast as they arrive and stored away ready for use when the challenging yacht arrives.

The Shamrock IV, as soon as she reaches the port, will be taken to the Shamrock yard and dismantled. Her keel will be removed, and the inside bracing taken out, and then she will be hauled out on the floating dock for cleaning.

After this is done, she will have her keel repainted. The inside bracing will be repainted, and the hull will be repainted. The hull will be repainted, and the hull will be repainted.
